Cecil's Corn Salve cures your corns without making them sore. Ask for it at Tydings & Co.

Col. R. F. Rogers, of Lake City, inspector of prison camps, was in the city Sunday and Monday.

Ocala will build a fine new theater. In which Ocala will show great good sense.—St. Petersburg Times.

Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates and can safely be given to children. Sold by Post Office Drug Store.

Mrs. C. Larratt Gamsby and son, Cameron, left Saturday for Jacksonville, Ala., where they will spend the summer.

Mrs. Elmore Davidson and baby went to York Saturday to visit Mrs. Davidson's parents, Capt. and Mrs. Harrison.

Mr. Duke Cato, formerly of this city and Miss Rosa Norris, who for some time past has been the cashier at the Tea Pot Grocery, were married in Tampa Saturday night where Miss Norris was visiting.

Dunnellon was represented in Ocala Monday by the following parties: Dr. J. G. Baskin, Henry Gordon, Henry Peter, John L. Wells, James L. Wells and Albertus Vogt.

When you want a pleasant physic try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They're easy to take and pleasant in effect. For sale by the Anti-Monopoly Drug Store.

Mr. W. V. Chappell, of Kendrick, had the misfortune to lose his home by fire several nights ago. He says he lost everything in the house—even to his fine bicycle which he prized very highly.

Hon. Raymond B. Bullock spent Sunday in Ocala with his family and returned to Tallahassee yesterday. As was predicted by his friends Mr. Bullock has taken a high position in the legislature and ranks with its most distinguished members.

The many friends of Mr. H. G. Eagleton are glad to know that he has sufficiently recovered from his recent illness to be out again.

Mr. James Sims, of Orange Springs, a prosperous logger and an old time subscriber to this paper, was in Ocala Friday and made us a pleasant call.

Mr. Emil Van Esen has just returned from Brussels and reports everything in fine shape across the water. Mr. Van Esen is a guest of the Ocala House.

Mrs. George K. Robinson and daughter, Hope, returned Sunday afternoon from a few days' visit to Miss Ethel Robinson at the East Florida Seminary.

Rev. J. R. Biggs, of this city, has sold the Religious Digest, the official organ of the Disciples of Christ of this state, to the Southern Evangelist of Atlanta, and that paper is now the official organ of this church for Georgia and Florida.

You never heard of any one using Foley's Honey and Tar and not being satisfied. Sold by Post Office Drug Store.

Among our country friends who heard Miss Tucker in her open air service Friday afternoon were Mr. Walter Luffman, Anthony; Mr. C. F. Schneider, of the Golden Acre orange grove; Mr. James Sims, Orange Springs, and Mr. S. S. Savage, Montague.

Messrs. P. H. Norris, J. W. Lyles, H. C. Gates and Clifford Livingston returned Saturday from New Orleans, where they attended the Confederate Veterans reunion. They report a grand time and sing the praises of New Orleans for her lavish hospitality to her thousands of visitors last week.

Miss Elsie Schneider returned Saturday from Gainesville, where for the past ten weeks she has been attending the normal school there. She was accompanied home by her friends, Prof. and Mrs. Simmons, of Indians, who made her a brief visit at her home on the Golden Acre Orange Grove.

In almost every neighborhood someone has died from an attack of colic or cholera morbus, often before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. A reliable remedy for these diseases should be kept at hand. The risk is too great for anyone to take. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has undoubtedly saved the lives of more people and relieved more pain and suffering than any other medicine in use. It can always be depended upon. For sale by the Anti-Monopoly Drug Store.

AT THE OCALA HIGH SCHOOL FRIDAY.

"A Dream of the Flowers" by the Primary Department.

Friday was a gala day at the public school, the primary and intermediate departments of the school giving their closing exercises. Both of these rooms were gaily decorated, the children were all in pretty light spring dresses and the occasion was one of deep interest to the children participating and to the large number of their friends who were present to witness the entertainment.

In the primary school, which is ably taught by Miss Nellie Stevens and Miss Blanche Hall, a very pretty May day cantata entitled, "A Dream of the Flowers," consisting of songs, choruses, recitations and dialogues, was beautifully rendered by the children in the front of the room, which had been improvised into a small stage.

The following characters took part in the May day festival, viz:

Two little girls who went to sleep and dreamed they were in fairy land. These were Cora May Wilson and Margaret Redding, one prettily dressed in pink and the other in green. Soon after they had gone to sleep eight little fairies came tripping and singing into the room. They were Ruby Fausett, Blanche Whaley, Annie Mae Close, Mary Harriett Livingston, M. C. Standley, Van Boney, Hugh Geiger and Earl Hester.

Two little hermits, George Davis and Gordon Moorehead then entered escorting a very important personage, who was none other than the Queen of the Fairies herself. And, indeed, this little lady, Theo Wallis, was a veritable little fairy in her pretty white dress, white slippers and stockings wearing a silver crown and carrying a silver wand.

Seated upon her throne she called for all her "flowers of beauty to lift up their little faces and greet the glad May day."

The flowers came forth in the following order, singing appropriate songs and each one wearing the flower she represented: Lillies, Eva Cole and Margaret Hall; daisies, Lois Lindsay, Clifford Pyles, and Maggie Morton; buttercups, Musie Bollock, Lois Dame and Gladys Wallis; violets, Nettie Chambers, Cecile Strong, Emma Perry and Beatrice Williams.

A pleasing incident of the entertainment was the entrance of the bumble bee in the person of Master Charlie Ball, who buzzed around all the flowers, who were gaily singing.

The Queen then dismissed her flowers, sending them to the woods to make a crown of flowers for the May Queen.

Little Rosebud Robinson, who was similarly dressed to the fairy queen, and who is a very bright and attractive little girl, then entered and with her golden wand awakened the little girls who had fallen asleep. Her subjects then sang her welcome song to which she responded most happily.

The entertainment concluded with a grand dance around the May pole, which was participated in by the Queen and a number of her subjects.

Between the acts of the cantata little Misses Erin Yonge and Fannie Sage played a pretty piano duet.

Just before the children were dismissed their teacher told them of a treat, which had been planned for them by their mothers. They were invited out under the trees where lemonade and cake was served to them. Needless to say this act of thoughtfulness, which was a great surprise, was greatly appreciated by the children and was a happy ending of the morning's pleasure to them.

INTERMEDIATE DEPARTMENT.

From 11 to 12 o'clock the scholars of the fourth and fifth grades held their exercises in the intermediate department. In all of the recitations and songs the scholars showed that they had been well and thoroughly trained by their much loved teachers, Miss May Turnley and Miss Etta Carn.

The following program was excellently carried out. The recitations and songs were all thoroughly enjoyed and especially so were the ones of Fred Meffert and Herbert Martin, which elicited much laughter and applause.

The following is the program in full:

Song, Return of the Birds.

Recitation, The Lark and the Robin, Herbert Martin.

Recitation, Seven Times Two, Sara Frank.

Recitation, The Thistle, May Smith

Recitation, The Flower Collector, John Chazal.

At the Grammar School Friday.

Friday afternoon the regular Friday exercises were held in the Grammar School department and proved to be exceedingly interesting. A number of visitors were present, who listened with interest to the following program:

Song, The Wild Bird's Song.

Recitation, Little Miss Peanut, Margaret Porter.

Recitation, The Goblins'll Git You, Alta Pearson.

Composition, The Fairy Street, Sue Anderson.

Recitation, The Tempest, Maxie Fishel.

Composition, Hero of Heroism, Jessie Lee Martin.

Recitation, Daniel Cappleman.

Recitation, Let us all Love One Another, Frances Bangs.

Reading, The Ant Eater, Charles Cleveland.

Recitation, Little Old Woman, Mary Gates.

Composition, Caroline Pasteur.

Recitation, The Glove and the Lion, Marion Pelet.

Song, To the Chase.

Debate, Resolved, That the Court House Should be Sold to the Government.

Affirmative: Lang Goodyear, Mary Burford and Valmore Izlar.

Negative: Annie Atkinson, Sam Barco and Edwin Spencer.

Rev. L. B. Warren, Frank Thomas and Miss Hattie Dye acted as judges and rendered a decision in favor of the negative.

Sam Barco then read the Grammar School Weekly, which was a very interesting edition.

The exercises concluded with a song, "Adieu," by the school.

Death of Miss Carrie Whiddon.

The following notice taken from the Gainesville News will be read with regret. The deceased with her parents, sister and brother lived in Ocala for a number of years and had many friends here who will be grieved to learn of her death.

Telegraphic information reached this city yesterday of the death of Miss Carrie, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Whiddon, which sad event occurred at the home of her parents in Ocala, Ga., Thursday morning at 3:45 o'clock.

This young lady was well known in this city, where she resided with her parents many years. She was possessed of a most amiable, affectionate disposition, and her numerous friends will receive the information with much sadness.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hampton, the latter a sister of the deceased, departed Thursday for Ocala, where they joined the grief-stricken family. The interment was in Thomasville Friday.

A Revelation.

If you will make inquiry it will be a revelation to you how many succumb to kidney or bladder troubles in one form or another. If the patient is not beyond medical aid, Foley's Kidney Cure will cure. It never disappoints. Sold by Post Office Drug Store.

Arkansas Chill Tonic is the best chill medicine on the market. Tydings & Co. have sold during the past nine months 1488 bottles of this excellent tonic.

What Is A Bank?

MUNROE & CHAMBLISS,
Bankers,
OCALA, FLORIDA.

A good many people think of a bank as being merely a strong place, where money is kept; where the lucky can go when they need the sinews of war.

That's a very one sided, incomplete definition.

A good bank is much more than that. It's a part of the great system that underlies all business.

We can't tell you in a breath everything that a bank will do for you, but we will be pleased to talk over the matter with you at any time you care to call on us.

Bringing Her Meetings to a Close.

Miss Emma Tucker, the noted evangelist, who has been holding revival services in Ocala for the past three weeks, was busy Saturday.

In the forenoon in company with Miss Godbey she visited the saloons of the city, talked with the proprietors and held prayer in some of the saloons. They received very courteous treatment but we have not heard them express an opinion as to how much good their visitation accomplished.

In the afternoon Miss Tucker held open air services especially for the colored people. The choir sang some animated songs and Miss Godbey sang two solos.

Miss Tucker's talk was on "Walking." Walking in the light—walking in the right paths—walking with the Godly and ungodly.

Her talk was a most effective one and met with very generous response.

We believe it was productive of good and we believe that more evangelism of this sort is needed among our colored population. There is no need of sending missionaries to Africa when we have so many of this race at our very doors. We need a hundred Miss Tuckers in every southern state to do this sort of evangelical work. It would create a better feeling between the two races and would make better citizens of the colored people.

In speaking of the closing exercises of the Marietta school near Jacksonville, the Times Union says that after the closing exercises Miss Nellie Hooper, of this city, the beloved teacher, delighted the audience and especially the little children with a recitation after which she expressed her gratitude for the assistance she received during the term. A unanimous vote was taken requesting that Miss Hooper and her assistants be returned for another year.
